Problem 1

The price of oil has declined drastically from $115 a barrel in June 2014 to below $50 recently. The decline can be attributed to weak global demand coupled with OPEC's decision to maintain output levels. How does the huge drop in the oil price influence the economic conditions of Asia countries, particularly Taiwan, Japan, and Russia? Please comment. (50 points)

Problem 2

Two years after Xi Jinping's tenure as China's president, Zhou Yongkang was arrested and expelled him from the ruling party, the most senior party official to face prosecution since the 1980s. Many analysts now consider President Xi to be the most powerful leader since Deng Xiaoping, the man who oversaw China's opening to the world and its market-oriented policies after the chaos of the 1966-76 Cultural Revolution. As the China Communist Party moves from group leadership into authoritative leadership, what do you think the strong leadership of President Xi influences the stability of the cross-strait relationship? Please comment. (50 points)
