BUNUN GLOSSARY

[Author's note: This glossary is not a comprehensive compilation; rather it is an anthology of the words found in the text this thesis. Definitions and spellings came from a range of sources and may need clarification. Bunun spellings adopted here, including those of personal names and place names, may vary from the Bible system and/or Taiwan's government's new system. These words were recorded as they were described by the informants and/or encountered during the author's field work. In some cases academic sources were sought for clarification.]
