

Symposium on Internationalization and Quality Management in Higher Education 2020

Held at Lingnan University, the Symposium on Internationalization and Quality Management in Higher Education 2020 is a multidisciplinary conference to promote academic exchanges on topics related to internationalization of higher education and quality assurance in higher education. Due to the COVID-19 restrictions, the Symposium was held online. The Symposium attracted integrative scholars to present their research and share their perspective on internationalization and quality management in higher education. As the theme stands on the international level, many scholars engaged in this Symposium, and the network between different universities was established. The global partnership was formed to achieve the Sustainable Development Goal 17 (SDG17) to revitalize the global partnership for sustainable development, especially on SDG4: Quality Education.

The Symposium will be conducted online via Zoom
