

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	II
ABSTRACT	I
CONTENTS	III
LIST OF TABLES	VII
LIST OF FIGURES	VIII
CHAPTER ONE: INTRODUCTION	1
CHAPTER TWO: LITERATURE REVIEW	7
Communication perspectives .....	7
1.1    Democratization of communication: the alternative communication debate .....	7
1.1.1    Alternative versus mass media.....	9
1.1.2    Alternative communication and their audience .....	11
1.2    Alternative communication within the community .....	12
1.2.1    Community belonging and exclusion .....	13
1.2.2    Community communication features.....	14
1.2.3    Jankowski's model of community communication .....	16
1.3    The community communication in practice .....	18
1.3.1    The Internet.....	20
1.3.2    Video and audio media .....	22
1.3.3    Telephone.....	23
1.3.4    Print media .....	23
1.3.5    Non mediated communication .....	24
1.3.6    The funding issue.....	25
1.4    The significance of community media.....	26

1.4.1	Participation .....	26
1.4.2	Empowerment.....	29
1.5	Overview.....	38
	Social perspective .....	40
1.1	Taiwan and the Chinese spouses case.....	41
1.1.1	Chinese spouses: demographic data.....	43
1.1.2	Taiwanese grooms: demographic data.....	47
1.1.3	Meeting channels .....	49
1.1.4	Problems they encounter getting to and staying in Taiwan .....	50
1.1.5	Taiwanese civil society and the Chinese spouses movement .....	55
	Conclusion .....	57
	CHAPTER THREE: COLLECTION OF DATA FOR ANALYSIS	61
	Organization selection .....	61
	Conduct of interviews .....	63
1.2	Participants.....	66
1.3	Interviews.....	68
1.4	Data processing and analysis .....	70
	Findings.....	72
1.1	Participants demographics .....	72
1.2	CARES: a familiar environment in a distant society .....	79
1.2.1	Community communication in CARES: an overview.....	83
1.2.2	Community communication techniques .....	85
1.3	The significance of CARES communications .....	95
1.3.1	Participation in CARES .....	95
1.3.2	Participants' empowerment .....	100

1.4	The case of Hualien .....	120
1.4.1	Hualien versus Taipei .....	120
1.5	Conclusion .....	123
	CHAPTER FOUR: DISCUSSION	125
1.1	Community communication in CARES.....	125
1.1.1	Significance of CARES communications.....	126
1.1.2	Traditional versus modern communications.....	127
1.2	The issue of participation.....	130
1.2.1	Reflections on self-management.....	131
1.3	The issue of empowerment .....	135
1.3.1	The long way towards community empowerment.....	136
	CHAPTER FIVE: CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS	140
1.4	Limitations .....	144
	Suggestions .....	147
1.5	Future research.....	150
	REFERENCES	153
	APPENDICES	166
1.	Semi-structured questionnaire with Chinese spouses.....	166
2.	Semi-structured questionnaire with organization assistant.....	171

LIST OF TABLES

Table 1: Media and technologies that are easy for the organization to use .....	19
Table 2: Media and technologies that are more challenging for the organization to use .....	20
Table 3: Foreign spouses married to Taiwanese (2001-2007) .....	44
Table 4: Age distribution of Chinese and South East Asian spouses (2003) .....	45
Table 5: Average age gap within couples in Taipei (2003) .....	46
Table 6: Status of men married by foreign and Chinese spouses (2003) .....	48
Table 7: Participants' current demographics .....	74

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1: Normological network for psychological empowerment .....	36
Figure 2: Job distribution among Chinese spouses working in Taiwan (2004) .....	47