

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First, I would to express my deepest and most sincere gratitude to my adviser, Dr. Chien-ching Mo for his expert advice and guidance throughout the conceptualization, development, and completion of this study. This work would not have been possible without his patient instruction and generosity in sharing his experience and expertise.

My utmost thanks go out to Dr. Tzyh-lai Huang and Dr. Hsueh-ying Yu for their valuable and constructive recommendations, adding thoughtful insights to this study. All my teachers in the Masters of Arts in English Teaching program at Chengchi University also deserve kudos for their dedicated teaching.

I am deeply indebted to my classmate and surrogate elder sister, Ms Jen-ju Lu of the National Overseas Chinese Experimental High School for her help in conducting the survey among her senior high school students. Thank you to Ms. Arleen Quien for polishing this thesis.

Lastly, I thank my parents for their unwavering support, my parents-in-law for their looking after my little baby, and my wife for her constant encouragement.

To those who gave encouragement and suggestions, you know who you are. All of you are deeply appreciated.