

Acknowledgements

First and foremost, I would like to thank my wife, Maureen for her encouragement and endurance throughout my time at NCCU. She has supported me while working full time, managing our home, and giving birth to our beautiful daughter Shannon. Words are not sufficient for the love and gratefulness that I feel for her.

I would like to gratefully acknowledge my thesis advisor, Dr. Chien-Wei Chen, who provided guidance, support and a vast amount of knowledge throughout my study and thesis writing experience. I would like to thank the other members of the thesis committee, Dr. Chwo-Ming Yu, and Dr. Yi-Long Jaw for the expertise, understanding, and patience they provided at all levels of the research project. I would also like to thank Dr. Po-Sheng Lin, Dr. Jyh-Shen Chiou, Dr. Len-Kuo Hu, Dr. Chwo-Ming Yu, Dr. Biing-Shen Kuo, Dr. Kun-Ming Chen, Dr. Wei-Jen Wen, Dr. Guang-Hwa Yang, Dr. Mong-Ja Tsai, Dr. Yung-Ho Weng, Dr. Dan-Chi Tan, and all of the Executive MBA program staff for making my study valuable and extremely rewarding throughout the two years of the program.

Finally, I would like to thank all of my Executive MBA program classmates. The friendships we have formed will carry forward throughout the rest of our lives.
